InterprofessionalResearch.Global (IPR.Global) is the Global Network in Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice (IPECP) Research. IPR.Global provides global leadership in mobilizing, integrating, and advancing global interprofessional knowledge, theories and research. As a community of practice, here are the core goals and priorities of IPR.Global:

- Fostering and enhancing global interprofessional collaborations in education and practice among and between pre/post licensure students, faculty/educators, service providers, organizations, patients/ clients and other knowledge and service users,
- Integrating ‘person-centred and people-first’ practices into IPECP to advance health and health care,
- Building international capacity for and facilitate theory/value-informed research and evidence-informed policy and practice in IPECP,
- Advancing global innovation in IPECP, and
- Providing a virtual platform for global integrated knowledge translation relevant to IPECP.

IPR.Global New 2021-2024 Strategic Directions

- Mission: Global network of scholars that fosters and supports evidence-informed knowledge and policy creation and mobilization in interprofessional education and collaborative practice (IPECP) through research and partnerships to improve care, learning, health, value, and wellness for systems and society.
- Vision: Renowned trailblazers influencing and elevating IPECP research and policy globally through shared expertise and collaboration.
- Strategic Priorities: Development, Discovery, and Dissemination and Mobilization
